

STILL MORE MAGICAL PROMPTS FOR WRITERS

FOR AGES 8 AND UP

- What if a young time traveler came back and had accidentally altered history and changed her family forever.
- What if a young time traveler went into the future, everyone was gone and the city had become like a jungle. How would she survive?
- Create a story about a group of kids who uncover a conspiracy in their town.
- Imagine a world where music has the power to influence people's decisions.
- What if there was a young sculptor who discovers their small statues have come to life.
- Imagine everyone has a unique superpower, except for one person.
- Describe a future where robots have replaced humans and people don't have to do anything anymore.
- Write a story about a character who finds a magical book that allows them to rewrite reality.
- Invent a world where dreams are tangible and can be bought and sold.
- What if a kid could read the minds of all animals, and telepathically talk to them, and the animals start to follow them everywhere.

Launching in January 2025, Blue is a middle grade novel about a young mystic who has learned to hide her gifts. Will she own her powers before it's too late? Watch your email for more information.
